Mrs. William Todd Robins announces the engagement of her daughter, Polly, to Russell S. Crenshaw, United States Navy, Lieutenant commanding reserve squadron at Annapolis, Md. No date has been announced for the wedding, which will be an important social event. Lieutenant Crenshaw is a son of Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Crenshaw, of this city.

Home Wedding.
White sweet peas and palms decorated the home of Mrs. Henry Franklin Phillips, 1816 West Grace Street, yesterday evening at 8 o'clock, when her daughter, Miss Edith Louise Phillips, became the bride of Beverly Henderson Davis, son of Dr. and Mrs. Edward W. Davis. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. Vaughan Colston, rector of the Church of the Holy Comforter, and H. S. Sainsbury, organist, played the wedding march.

Bernard Chapman Syme, of Petersburg, attended the groom as his best man and the ushers were Henry Adam Phillips, and Walter A. Carpenter, of Roanoke. Mrs. Walter A. Carpenter was dam of honor.

The bride entered with her brother, Charles H. Phillips, who also gave her in marriage. Her wedding gown was fashioned of duchesse satin veiled in lace and chiffon, and her tulle veil, which fell to the hem of her gown, was arranged with a real lace cap and fastened with orange blossoms. She carried a presentation bouquet of gardenias and lilies of the valley. The matron of honor wore a lovely gown of rose crepe meteor with silver trimmings and carried a shower bouquet of shaded sweet peas.

A reception followed the ceremony, and Mr. and Mrs. Davis have gone North on their wedding trip. Guests from a distance included Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Sneed, of Clifton Forge; Mrs. C. H. Robb, of Hampton; Bernard Syme, of Petersburg; Mrs. Irene Phillips, of Roanoke; Mrs. W. A. Carpenter, of Roanoke; and Henry Ogden Du Bois, of New York.

and Mendelssohn's "Wedding March" as a recessional.
A reception was held immediately after the ceremony. The bride is the oldest daughter of J. A. Lanier, a well-known wholesale merchant of Petersburg, and is a member of Grace Episcopal choir. Mr. Hill is a son of the late Rowland Hill and Mrs. Annie M. Hill, and is a member of the firm of Smith & Hill Company, merchandise brokers of the city.

Mr. and Mrs. Hill left at once to spend their honeymoon in New England. They will spend some time in the White Mountains, and will also visit the groom's sister, Mrs. Lindley M. Binford, of Saco, Me., and motor to points of interest along the coast. The ceremony of the wedding will be at home on West Grace Street.

Among the out-of-town guests were Misses Lucille and Elise Walters, Ella Stanley, of Roanoke; Mrs. Hawkins, of Bristol, Tenn.; Miss Morris, of Waverly; Mrs. J. O. Steptoe, of Indiana; Mrs. J. O. Lanier, of Norfolk; Miss Imogen Birchett, Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Johnson, Miss Eugenia Johnson, Charles E. Smith, Mr. and Mrs. T. W. Hoening, Mr. and Mrs. A. F. Selden, Jr., Mrs. Gilbert, Mrs. Annie M. Hill, Miss Grace Hill, Miss Harriet Hill, T. W. Snellings, William Sullivan, Messrs. Gaudin and Gary, all of Richmond; Mr. and Mrs. Isaac Carlington, Morton, of Staunton; and Reuben Bagland, of Jacksonville, Fla.

Going North.
Mr. and Mrs. Graham Bruce Hobson and little Miss Lelia Graham Hobson leave town Tuesday with Mr. and Mrs. George Ball Hutchings for the Adirondacks, where they have taken a cottage for the summer. The entire trip from Richmond to the lower Saranac Lake will be made in Mr. Hutchings' automobile.

Mrs. Mary F. Coburn and her daughter, Miss Mamie Coburn, who have been guests of Mrs. R. H. Lewis, in Highland Park, left last Wednesday for Washington, Harrisburg, New York and Vermont. After their Northern trip they will return to their home in New Mexico.

Recent arrivals. at the Diggs' cottage at Ocean View, include Mrs. D. Key, Miss May Key, Raymond Key, of Norfolk; Mr. and Mrs. E. D. Johnson, of Roanoke; Mrs. E. F. Bardin, and daughter, of Cincinnati; O. Mrs. F. G. Kutz and son, United States Navy; Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Burfoot, of Petersburg; Miss K. L. Thomson, Miss L. A. Fletcher, of Richmond; D. W.

Farmville Wedding.
A marriage unique in the history of such functions and as impressive in its every feature as it was unique, was celebrated at noon last Tuesday, at Ridgeway, the country home of Mr. and Mrs. Colin Stokes, near Farmville, when Miss Elizabeth Phillips, daughter of the late Philip Carr Snow, of Philadelphia, and Rev. Colin Munroe, of Hickory, N. C., uncle of the bride, officiating.

The marriage was solemnized out in the open on the lawn in front of the home and under the shade trees. The forenoon had been darkened with clouds and the rain fell gently, making all nature to rejoice and take on new beauty, but just as the bridal party emerged from the yard in the light and began the march down the flower-lined aisle which led to the altar of evergreens interspersed with bright bloomers, the sun shone out brightly for a moment.

Of Interest Here.
The wedding of Miss Grace Burt Jones and Leslie Allen Pittard, of Clarksville, took place in Pelham Methodist Episcopal Church, Brunswick county, Wednesday morning at 10:30 o'clock, the Rev. H. P. Reed, pastor of the bride, officiating.

The bride is a daughter of the late Andrew Soule Jones and Mrs. Rebecca Bromgool, both of Clarksville, Greenlee county. The bridegroom is a son of Mr. and Mrs. W. G. Pittard, of Buffalo Junction.

The church was decorated in ferns, forest greens and cut flowers, the color scheme being pink and green, and was lighted with candles. Mrs. A. N. Goodwyn, of Emporia, had charge of the music. Just before the entering of the bridal party the wedding march from "Lohengrin," "Counstoney" was sung by Mrs. Andrew S. Jones, sister of the bride. "Angels' Serenade" was softly rendered during the ceremony, and Mendelssohn's Wedding March was played as a recessional.

Mrs. Robert Mason Mallory, sister of the bride, was matron of honor. She was gowned in white messaline, veiled in white marquisette, with black picture hat, and carried white sweet peas. Misses Ida Bromgool Jones and Ida Pittard, sister and cousin of the bride, were maids of honor. They wore gowns of Irish crochet net over French pink messaline, with black picture hats, and carried pink sweet peas.

W. J. Pittard, of Buffalo Junction, was his brother's best man, and the ushers were Andrew S. Jones, of Radcliff; Harry T. Jones, of Norfolk; Richard Gordon, of Clarksville; and Turner W. Chambliss, of Emporia. The bride entered with her brother, Richard Sims Jones, who gave her away. She wore a tailored suit of gray whipcord, with hat and gloves to match, and carried a shower bouquet of white roses and lilies of the valley.

An informal reception was given the bride party at the beautiful country home of the bride Tuesday evening.

Immediately after the ceremony the bride and bridegroom left for an extended Northern tour, which will include Niagara Falls and places of interest in Southern Canada.

Among the out-of-town guests were Mrs. W. G. Pittard, Miss Jessie Pittard, W. J. and Clarence Pittard, of Buffalo Junction; Mrs. J. E. Sizemore, of Buffalo Litch Springs; Richard Gordon, of Clarksville; Misses Ida P. Sims, of Powellton; Grace Mallory, of Lawrenceville; Lizzie Turnbull, of Lawrenceville; Nannie Young, of Hebron; H. T. Jones, of Norfolk; and Mrs. A. N. Goodwyn and Turner W. Chambliss, of Emporia, and Mr. and Mrs. Robert Mason Mallory, of Roanoke.

The home of Mr. and Mrs. Charles H. Brady, 916 South Roanoke Street, Roanoke, was the scene of a pretty wedding Wednesday evening, when their daughter, Miss Dora Louise, became the bride of Jack Chapman Waeldon, of Chicago. The wedding register was kept by Miss Olga Moser, of Norfolk. The lower suite of rooms was thrown open and decorated with ferns, carnations and sweet peas, the hall and dining room in pink, and the parlor in white. The ceremony was performed before an improvised altar of palms and ferns, lighted with many candles. Miss Bertha Jennings, of Norfolk, gowned in blue satin veiled with black chiffon, played the wedding march, softly rendering "Hearts and Flowers" during the service.

The bridesmaids were Miss Margaret White, of Lynchburg, who wore pink satin with an overdress of cream lace, and obi sash of chiffon; Miss Beverly Taylor, of White Gate, in a charming frock of yellow satin with silver trimmings, and Miss Helen Ernest, of Abingdon, in a gown of blue satin, with draperies of white chiffon caught with rosebuds. They carried bouquets of pink and white sweet peas.

The groomsmen were James Armstrong, Michael Dau and William Armstrong, of Norfolk. The bridegroom was attended by Joe Shockey, as best man. The ring was carried in a lily by Miss Miss Vivian Sampson, who wore white lingerie with rosebud rosettes.

The matron of honor was Mrs. Kindavater, sister of the groom. She wore a creation of white satin draped with chiffon and carried pink and white sweet peas. Miss Ruby Brady, sister of the bride, was maid of honor, and her frock was pink messaline with an overdress of embroidered net, with a tischu edged with fringe and caught at the neck with chiffon rosebuds. Her flowers were pink sweet peas.

The bride party descended the stairs and approached the altar through a ribboned aisle. The bride entered with her father. Her gown was of white satin, with an overdress of princess lace, handsomely embroidered and trimmed with fringe, and she wore pearls. Her veil was caught in bonnet effect, with a wreath of orange blossoms, the soft folds falling to the hem of her frock. She carried a shower bouquet of white roses and sweet peas.

Mr. and Mrs. Weeden left at midnight for Washington and New York. They will be at home after July 10 at 4026 Calumet Avenue, Chicago.
